

Leslie Ann Reis

B.S. Syracuse University, cum laude

J.D. The John Marshall Law School

Leslie Ann Reis is the Director of The John Marshall Law School's Center for Information Technology and Privacy Law. Professor Reis oversees all aspects of the Center's Master of Laws and Master of Science programs. In addition, she teaches courses in information law and policy, First Amendment, free speech and privacy rights. Professor Reis also supervises the law school's distinguished Journal of Computer and Information Law.

Professor Reis joined The John Marshall Law School's faculty in 1997 as an Adjunct Professor. She has practiced civil rights law in Chicago and is a past Director of the American Judicature Society's Center for Judicial Independence.

In 1996 - 1997, Professor Reis was awarded a legal fellowship with the Reporters Committee for Freedom of the Press where she served as in-house counsel for the nonprofit journalists' advocacy organization. She wrote extensively on media, information and technology issues for the Committee's various publications. She co-authored an amicus curiae brief to the U.S. Supreme Court in the Internet indecency case, Reno v. ACLU. Her comments opposing the World Intellectual Property Organization's proposed copyright protection for databases were published in the Government Information Quarterly.

Prior to becoming an attorney, Professor Reis worked for more than 15 years as a broadcast journalist. She is the recipient of numerous awards including a Chicago Area Emmy Award for outstanding achievement in editing. She continues to serve as a consultant for media organizations and recently produced several segments for Chicago Public Broadcasting's "Chicago Tomorrow" program on science and technology.

Professor Reis' publications include The Rodney King Beating – Beyond Fair Use: A Broadcaster's Right to Use Copyrighted Material as Part of a Newscast, 13 John Marshall J. Computer & Info. L. 269 (1995), Tapping Officials' Secrets: The Door to Open Government (1997) (Editor & Contributing Author), Can We Tape: A Practical Guide to Taping Conversations in the 50 States and D.C. (1996) (Contributing Author), E-FOIA: Introduction to the New & Improved Freedom of Information Act, www.rcfp.org (1996).
